

From the desk of . . .

Pete Maravich

I am here tonight for only one reason that reason being my prayer that GOD would touch someones life here tonight, change one person. SAVE SOMEONE man or woman and than my comin here would not be in vain. I pray you young peop will be attentive for as I travel this great nation I see that the majority of young people are confused and by many of their actions do not fear GOD. Today slopans continue to cry out from go for it, get real, Lets party & do you own thing (I certainly did.) ~~By~~ As I reflect back to my youth I see that my earthly goals from the start were for fame & fortune. In fact from the age of 4 all I began to ever know was basketball.

The world has their own hero's their own ways to success & happiness, but these ways are temp and false and I can see how young people are destroying themselves each & every day.

^{will never}
You ~~may not~~ ^{will never} have control over all the circumstances in your life, but the attitude with which you face the circumstance is totally your own.
